

Voleo Expands Offerings and Announces Feature Updates

September 12, 2019

VANCOUVER, CANADA, Voleo Trading Systems Inc. (TRAD: TSX-V) (“Voleo”, the “Company”), is pleased to announce feature updates for its flagship trading platform including an expansion of available securities, which now include penny stocks. Effective immediately, Voleo users in the United States are able to trade a broader universe of stocks and ETFs.

The decision to expand the universe of available securities to include penny stocks, defined by the SEC as securities priced at under $5 per share, comes as a direct result of user requests. CEO Thomas Beattie observed, “Voleo clubs have demonstrated a pattern of investing responsibly, leveraging their combined wisdom through our proprietary voting mechanism and building diversified portfolios. As part of promoting education among self-directed investors, we are committed to providing users with access to a wider range of securities. The combination of feedback and high engagement by app users allows us to continually make improvements to enhance their investing experience.”

Additional updates encourage new users to easily form watchlists and participate in the community. Voleo has also redesigned its stock research screen and deployed a documents interface that will enhance user experience.

“Voleo is rolling out new features that expand its business and revenue potential,” says Mark Morabito, Executive Chairman. “Penny stocks are an exciting part of the market. With more on the roadmap for 2019 and 2020, we aim to deliver incremental improvements on every release to attract the next generation of investors.”

The live Voleo platform is currently limited to U.S. residents. Investors should be aware that investing through clubs requires that members of a club vote in accordance with the conditions of their respective partnership agreements, and that other factors including platform performance, execution price, order and account access times are affected by many factors, including connectivity, market volatility, the size and type of order(s), market conditions, system performance, and other factors. Investors should carefully consider the risk profile of ETFs before investing in them, and read the prospectus from the issuer before investing in an ETF. Penny stocks may trade infrequently, which means that it may be difficult to sell penny stock shares once you own them. Moreover, because it may be difficult to find quotations for certain penny stocks, they may be difficult, or even impossible, to accurately price. For these, and other reasons, penny stocks are generally considered speculative investments. Consequently, investors in penny stocks should be prepared for the possibility that they may lose their whole investment.
