Voleo Receives Investment from Fidelity National Information Services and Participates in Accelerator Program Hosted by The Venture Center

June 6, 2019

VANCOUVER, CANADA, Voleo Trading Systems Inc. (TRAD: TSX-V) (“Voleo”, the “Company”), is pleased to announce the Company is participating in the 2019 Fidelity National Information Services (“FIS”) Fintech Accelerator Program. As one of ten selected start-up companies taking part in the 12-week on-site mentorship program at The Venture Center, Voleo is benefitting from in-depth business support and guidance as its management team meets with dozens of innovative financial institutions. Voleo was the only Canadian fintech company selected from over 225 applicants across 36 different countries.

FIS is investing over $100,000 (US$75,000) into Voleo across three equal tranches at a price equivalent to the RTO price of $0.25 per share. This investment is complemented by personal access to FIS’s senior executives. The Venture Center is dedicated to developing the financial innovations of the program participants and proactively supporting dialogues between the cohort and financial institutions.

Thomas Beattie, CEO of Voleo, commented “We have already started to realize tremendous value from the FIS accelerator program. Voleo is gaining significant exposure to its target market of influential financial institutions and we have direct access to numerous banks and credit unions. We look forward to continuing to build our relationship with FIS through the rest of this program and into the future.”

The 12-week program commenced April 29, 2019 in Little Rock, Arkansas – regarded by many as the ‘birthplace of fintech’ – and will run until July 19, 2019.
